

Megan Johnson is the Assistant Vice President and Senior Program Manager at Flagstar Bank, where she leads initiatives that strengthen workplace culture, foster inclusion, and drive meaningful change. With more than eight years of experience, she collaborates across business lines to create opportunities that support employee growth and organizational success.

A graduate of Oakland University with a BA in Gender Studies and a certified Diversity Professional, Megan combines academic expertise with practical experience to develop programs that enhance employee engagement, leadership development, and community impact. She has played a key role in mentoring emerging leaders, advancing strategic initiatives, and supporting Employee Resource Groups in elevating visibility and advocacy.

As a queer woman and dedicated mother, Megan is passionate about creating spaces where individuals feel valued, supported, and empowered to reach their full potential. Her leadership is driven by collaboration, innovation, and a commitment to progress.

Megan continues to champion initiatives that promote equity, opportunity, and a thriving workplace, ensuring a place where all employees can succeed.